

The Pennsylvania State University
Department of Art History

Signatory Page for a Master's Paper

A Master's Paper does not need to follow the thesis guidelines of the University and is ultimately deposited in the department. A student choosing this option will register for 6 credits of Art H 596, "Individual Studies," during a single semester or split over two semesters, typically during a student's second year of study. A successful paper must be approved by at least the student's advisor and a second reader, both of whom should be members of the graduate faculty/affiliate faculty of the Department of Art History. It is the advisor's responsibility to establish reasonable format expectations for the paper. When the paper has been approved, it will be deposited with the Department Head no later than one week before the end of classes for a given semester.

Before depositing the Master's Paper with the Department Head, please complete this form and have it signed by the appropriate individuals. This sheet must be included after the title page of the Master's Paper.
